

Feedback Expectations of Students

Introduction and Informed Consent for Student Participants

One of the principles of good teaching is providing prompt feedback to students. We want to know what you believe to be an appropriate amount of time to receive prompt feedback from a professor associated with each of the assignments/communication activities that follow. Please take a few minutes to complete our survey which is available at:

<http://FreeOnlineSurveys.com/rendersurvey.asp?sid=s3nmzq4s3pyp0wj362259>

Your participation in this study is totally voluntary and you may withdraw at any time without negative consequences. The information that you provide will be collected anonymously. Results of this study will be reported without identifying information, so that individual participants will remain anonymous. This survey will take most participants approximately 15 minutes to complete and will be available until December 15, 2007.

The principle investigators for this study are Dr. Sal Sanders, Dr. Carol Mikanowicz, Dr. Louise Sellaro and Dr. Andy Chang.

Thank you for taking the time and making the effort to help us with this research project. If you have questions regarding this survey instrument or any aspect of this research project please contact:
